Morning Richard

Here are links to the Environment, Development and Infrastructure Committee paper to which I referred last night.

The Committee noted the detail of Electric Vehicle Charging Strategy (link 1) and the Cost Recovery Model (link 2), and the outline methodology set out in Appendix Two (link 3).

Importantly, the Committee were advised that more detailed discussions with elected members regarding potential sites in their areas at a Member Development Day would be held prior to a further report being considered at Committee before a consultation exercise. Importantly, because that allows you as a Community Council and 'us' as Mid Argyll members to press for provision in Tayvallich, should that be your wish.

No guarantee, but if we don't ask, we'll be that bit further down the priority list.

This issue could feature in discussions with the Scottish Waterways and the facilities provided to serve canal transit and leisure users and visitors.
